New York City, March 1964. A 1964 old prison inside the maximum security of the Congressional Administration (H. R. 1) investigating the administration of discipline in the United States Army. The France listened to a shocking number of systematic brutality.

Here is what happened to American soldiers many of them wounded at H. R. while under punishment for minor offenses, as told in the following list:

[illegible]

"HARDBOILED" SMITH BLAMED
"Hardboiled" Smith, the notorious lieutenant in charge of Prison Farm No. 2, in the Paris district, was the star witness, but his testimony mostly of a defensive nature, was eclipsed by the evidence of the men who followed him on the stand. Thus Sergeant Frank C. Hall, who was lieutenant Smith's chief aide on the farm prison, said:

I beat the prisoners up. Hardboiled Smith told me I had to treat them rough, to mow them up, and educate them, and I began as soon as he took me off the farm. He beat and made me kick around."

Not a moment later, how many I don't know, found their way to a hundred people. He says one had as many as 500 in a hundred anyway. He says he met up with men before almost any of the other officers to make sure they had all their day's affairs. The rest of a man bleeding from a head wound was nothing at all to him. We saw a tall man who made complaints and some guys had to be

He forced the lady to leave. "I do it for it is easier," Hordstulund said, "and he would turn us loose among the prisoners and I know what that means. They would kill me in no time. If I were in Fort Leavenworth I would be shot." "I've done it," Hordstulund said, "and I've seen my six months' sentence here."

They had only bread and water for five days there at one time, just about without leave men and some

"Now at Farm No. 2, under Smith we had to beat them up in self-defense. Lieutenants Mason and Hufschmidt and that doctor officer were the ones who beat them. Then the Lieutenant Martin issued blackjacks to the M. P. men, and by the looks of the prisoners when they came in they must have used them something fearful."

DEAD, 300 WOUNDED.
Aerial bombing of the cities of Memphis and Jackson, Miss., today has reduced somewhat earlier estimates of the dead and wounded in official coroners' lists early today to about the number of dead at twenty-five and the wounded at 300, said a United Nations spokesman. The wounded list is estimated, however, more than 350.

A coroner's thugport over the bodies of victims of the riot has to be held in Memphis today. The coroner's office says that the bodies of the dead are being taken and probably will get under way today. A grand jury will convene tomorrow to conduct an inquiry into the reasons for the outbreak. The coroner's office is also conducting a probe of the situation in Memphis, the United States Attorney told today.

Another incident that featured the Patrolman Thomas Daly and Police Sergeant George Chant were shot and fatally wounded during the night while attempting to quell riots. Calls for help came from the riot-stricken districts with almost unending urgency during the night. Mobs of blacks and whites swarmed through the streets and flaming fires up in hundreds of localities.

ATTACK MAKEUP CRIPPLE TO ASK OF BOARD ON RAILWAYS STATE PAY FOR FLOGGING

The membership of the legislative committee appointed to study the effect of the railway strike on the crippled, was announced today in a statement issued today by the executive committee of the Citizens' Vigilance Committee.

The statement, which was signed by Francis J. Morgan, chairman of the committee, and others, declared that the men selected have no direct interest in the strike, but are men of the law.

The committee was made up of Sen. James Cavanaugh and Harry and Roger Brewster, Republican; Young, Allen and David Milner, who for the first time in the history of the legislature have been elected to the position of members of the committee.

To the members of the Executive Committee of the Citizens' Vigilance Committee, representing the crippled, the committee has a message to send. It is a message of sympathy and of a desire to see that the crippled are not left behind in the struggle for the rights of the people.

The condition of the crippled is a matter of public concern. It is a matter of public interest. It is a matter of public duty. It is a matter of public honor. It is a matter of public pride. It is a matter of public glory. It is a matter of public honor. It is a matter of public pride. It is a matter of public glory.

We do not believe that the crippled are a burden on the state. We believe that they are a part of the state. We believe that they are a part of the people. We believe that they are a part of the nation. We believe that they are a part of the world.

It is the duty of the state to care for the crippled. It is the duty of the people to care for the crippled. It is the duty of the nation to care for the crippled. It is the duty of the world to care for the crippled. It is the duty of the state to care for the crippled. It is the duty of the people to care for the crippled. It is the duty of the nation to care for the crippled. It is the duty of the world to care for the crippled.

Franklin N. D. D. of the 11th district, a member of the committee, said today that the committee was made up of men of the law, and that they were not interested in the strike, but in the rights of the people.

The committee was made up of men of the law, and that they were not interested in the strike, but in the rights of the people. The committee was made up of men of the law, and that they were not interested in the strike, but in the rights of the people.

Smart and Brilliantly Colored Are the Novel Slave Bracelets

Fashion—according to the dictates of Paris—does not limit you to one or even three of these new bracelets. It is vogue to wear many, and it is very much the vogue to wear them above your elbows.

The Serpent Bracelet, reminiscent of the ancient Assyrians, is particularly interesting. It is of black bone, so designed that it will cling whether worn above or below the elbow. Two black jet eyes gleam from the serpent's head with weird fascination.

Plain round bracelets, and series of bone medallions joined by elastic are the favorites. They are shown in shades of coral, blue, amber and demi-hondie.

Especially effective with summer frocks and for wear with the beach costume and bathing suits.

Why Names of Cars Are Not Given in Racing Events

A reader asks why the names of cars are not given in racing events. The answer is that the names of cars are not given in racing events because it is not fair to the drivers. If the names of cars were given, it would be unfair to the drivers who are not driving the same car. Therefore, the names of cars are not given in racing events.

DERF 360 SPARK POINT PLUGS

Another Wonderful Triumph for Derf Spark Plugs!

In a dependability run, conducted by the Tower Motor Co. with an Overland car, Derf Spark Plugs again proved their superiority over any other plug. Seven days and seven nights the car was run, under the most unfavorable conditions, and not once did the motor miss a fire! The run covered 3707 miles at an average gasoline consumption of 21.30 miles per gallon!

This absolutely proved our claim that the Derf saves 20% to 35% gasoline; that it is the most dependable plug made and that it lasts longest.

In fact, Mr. M. R. Coon, Mgr. of the Tower Motor Co., wrote us: "Derf Plugs are certainly all that is claimed for them—and then some!"

Can you beat that? There are hundreds of similar triumphs. You can't even approximate the Derf's record with any other plug.

Prove it yourself. What the Derf saves for others it will save for you. Get a set today and learn what it means to have the Derf give you more power at less cost! $6.20 for four, $9.30 for six.

BETTER CHANCE IN SERVICE THAN CIVIL LIFE

So Kenneth C. Hartin, World War Veteran, Re-enlists at Camp Devens

Camp Devens, July 28.—The regular army offers better opportunities than civilian life, was the statement made by Kenneth C. Hartin, veteran of the world war, when he re-enlisted today. Hartin came from his home at Canterbury, N.H., where he was a farmer, to enlist in the regular army. He was transported to the United States from France, and from there will take a transport to the United States. Hartin was married with a family of four children. He is 35 years and nine months old.

Walter Ahrens, a regular re-enlisted in the infantry. Ahrens stated he had no relatives living. Asked if he had any friends, he replied negatively.

Three Worcester men passed inspection examinations and completed with the regulars. They are Felix Rutkowski, No. 3 Taylor street; Charles Harvett, who gave Jackson, N.H., as his address; and Walter Ahrens, who gave Worcester, as his address. They are all re-enlisting at Camp Devens.

Other enlistments were Roy W. Smith, Franklin, Ill.; Paul E. Willette, East Taunton; Arthur J. Chaffin, Northampton; James H. Smith, Southwick; Frederick S. Paterson, Bridgewater, N.J.; and William W. Smith, N.J. These men are all re-enlisting at Camp Devens.

Secret War Papers of Germany Will Be Published

Berlin, July 29.—All of the secret war documents in the archives of the German foreign office will be made public and those will prove that the armistice was not due to the revolution, but to the collapse of the German military machine. Foreign Secretary Hermann Mueller announced in the National Assembly at Weimar on Tuesday afternoon. The documents are now being printed.

CALIFORNIA MAN TAKES BRIDE IN BROOKLINE

Miss Gertrude G. L. Quinlan, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Quinlan, No. 127 Walnut street, Brookline, and William T. Mooney of Pasadena, Cal., were married today at the Church of St. Mary of the Assumption. The bride's mother, the Rev. Thomas A. Quinlan, pastor of the church of the Sacred Heart, South Natick, celebrated the nuptial mass. The bride is a graduate of Notre Dame Academy and of Boston Normal School. Mr. Mooney was graduated from the University of California, Berkeley, and is now a law student at the University of California, Berkeley. The bride was attended by Miss Mary P. Quinlan, as maid of honor. Joseph J. Quinlan, brother of the bride, was best man.

CYCLIST IS BACK

FROM WAR PRISON

Arthur Vanderstuyft, once well known here as a professional bicyclist, arrived in New York on Lorraine to recoup his fortunes lost in the war. He has been signed up to ride at the Revere Cycle Track.

Vanderstuyft was in Antwerp, Belgium, when the war broke out, with his wife, formerly Louise Martin.

Verbeek of Brooklyn.

They were taken prisoners, with their baby daughter, by the German and Mrs. Vanderstuyft became ill and died on account of the inability of her husband to secure proper medical aid.

Vanderstuyft, accompanied by Oscar Ege, champion one-mile unassisted bicyclist, and August Gaethops reached New York and the first named announced that he comes to attempt to break the present world's record for

He was a rich man, as bicycle champions go, he said, when he was made prisoner. But his German captors assessed him of all his wealth during his enforced stay in Antwerp.

He retold the story of mistreatment by the Germans of the Belgians captured in Belgian cities. He also had the last letters written by his wife. These told of her suffering and her need for medical attention that was denied her by the authorities.

August Gaethofs accompanies Vanderstuyft as his pacemaker. Gaethofs, during the war, was airplane mechanic for the French, Italian and English governments and co-operated with the American army officers in building scout planes.

He organized factories for scout planes in Milan, London and Paris, and supervised the manufacture of planes in these factories and experimented with improvements. He was one of the first Belgians to fly in a heavier than air machine.

Since the invention of the motorcycle he has been a motorcyclist and he stated that the forty horse-power engine in the motorcycle he uses to pace Vanderstuyf is the identical motor he used in his first successful airplane, plus improvements that he has added.

The last time Vanderstuyf was in this country was during 1927, when he rode in the six-day races at Madison Square Garden. Oscar Kegg rode in the six-day races in 1915 and 1916.
